Who we are

Promoromo is a promotional merchandise supplier based in Dallas, TX. We provide a variety of customized promotional products for North American customers. Our products are made out of earth friendly recyclable materials.

You imagine, we create

With our state-of-the-art design studio, we can easily create a custom design from a variety of styles. Our experienced creative artwork team and stringent quality control process helps bring exciting promotional products directly to your door. We are not satisfied, until you are.

Our environmental impact

Because we use 100% non-toxic dyes and raw materials, our earth friendly products are designed to have minimal environmental impact.

Our values

- » You are our business partner - your success is ours.
- » Creating a customer-focused culture is the nature of our business.
- » We employ integrity and quality to satisfy your specification.
- » We strive to get you the best possible product for the least possible price.
- » We seek your feedback; we listen to you, and then act.
- » We maintain two-way open line of communication with our customers.
- » We will provide continuous support within our means.
- » We stay transparent – "basic honesty is the key to our success".
- » We follow up on our promises.
- » We take full responsibility for our actions.

How we source

All of our raw materials come from conflict free zones, with no child labor, and where human rights are fully observed.

Where we want to be

Given that we value the environment, integrity, quality and most of all, customer satisfaction, we will never make promises that we cannot keep. Our goal is to be the best at what we do, and a name you can trust in the promotional product industry.

Our most popular product is the Custom Printed Polyester Lanyard. They are made from a high quality, durable, and comfortable polyester material. Polyester has a certain polish that gives you a superior product with a professionally finished look and feel. A variety of custom printing options are readily available on all lanyard designs. We have a large rainbow of available stock colors for you to choose from. In addition, we offer you the ability to pick your own PMS color. Our screen print comes with an enamel base that no one across the industry can provide. This allows us to guarantee that your imprints will not rub off with use. Custom Printed Polyester Lanyards are stylish, economical, and a great tool for your trade show, seminar, event, or ID badge straps. In our factory, we produce our own polyester material which allows us to offer Just in Time Manufacturing capability. Our deep inventory supports our manufacturing requirements and helps to assure we are always ready to provide any quantity or color you need.

All our lanyards can be used with any type of attachment. We have FREE ARTWORK ASSISTANCE for your custom printed polyester lanyards, so please feel free to utilize our in-house art department to assist you!

NYLON LANYARD

Looking for the shiniest material possible on your custom printed lanyard design? Just choose our custom printed nylon lanyards. Screen Printing on this shiny surface affords a vivid and detailed look. Screen printed nylon lanyards are slightly shinier than the custom printed polyester lanyards and have a more exotic appearance than other types of lanyards. A variety of custom printing options are readily available on all lanyard designs. We have a large rainbow of available stock colors for you to choose from. In addition, we offer you the ability to pick your own PMS color. Our screen print comes with an enamel base that no one across the industry can provide. This allows us to guarantee that your imprints will not rub off with use. Your logo can be printed with one or more colors on our custom nylon lanyards. It is great for ID neck straps, events, branding campaigns, corporate branding, university and college ID holders.

Full Color Dye Sublimated

The Dye-sublimation process is a digital printing technology using full color artwork that works with polyester lanyards. This method uses heat and pressure, applied to print your custom design on your lanyards. In sublimation printing, the print will not crack, fade or peel from the substrate lanyard under normal conditions. It is extremely durable and perfect for any intricate and highly detailed colored logo, design or text. Our team will work closely with you on a perfect full color custom printed dye sublimation design that you will proudly wear!

All our lanyards can be used with any type of attachment. We have FREE ARTWORK ASSISTANCE for your custom printed full color dye sublimation lanyards, so please feel free to utilize our in-house art department to assist you!

CUSTOM BEVERAGE KOOZIE

Soft and sturdy neoprene, collapsible or non collapsible and print in single or multicolor

Our beverage coolers are made from high quality neoprene which is a much better insulator than standard foam. They are perfect insulators for aluminum or steel cans, and glass or plastic bottles. Coolers are used to insulate a chilled beverage from warming by conduction and heat radiation, such as: A Hand, Sunlight, or Warm Air.

Using a cooler can reduce the rate a drink warms in the sun by up to 50%. Our coolers can keep beer or soda ice cold and your hands warm at the same time.

Other benefits include easily identifying one's beverage from another person's and is excellent for advertising and marketing. Many companies successfully use the coolers as promotional giveaways because they are not only inexpensive, but their frequent use is more likely to bring the company's name to the public's eye. We can customize and imprint your logo or image on any of our variety of colors, either by screen-printing or by dye-sublimation (perfect for intricate logos).
